BASE BALL SCHEDULE.

President Ziegler Sends Out the Inter-state Schedule.

- WHEELING AND STEUBENVILLE

The Plums Received By Wheeling. To-night's Boxing Contests-Work Started On the Ball Park-The Bowlers Defeated One in Three By Riverside - The Nashville Races, Entries and Probable Winners. Other News of Sport.

Manager Will White, of the ball club, yesterday received his official copy of the Inter-state schedule, which is given in full below. At the Mausfield meeting of the league in March Mesers. Buckenberger, of the Wheeling club; West, of the Columbus club, and Goble, of the Canton club, were each entpowered to draw up a schedule for the season, all to be submitted to President Howard Ziegler, who would select one or frame a new one. President Ziegler found none of the three satisfactory so he drew up another, combining as many of the good points of the three as was found possible.

was found possible.

The season opens May 1 and closes September 21. Each club will play 112 games, fifty-six at home and fifty-six abroad, and the mileage per club is estimated at 2,200 miles. The opening games will be as follows: May' 1, Steubenville at Wheeling, Columbus at Findlay, Canton at Twin Cities, Akrou at Mansfield. Wheeling will play the following teams on the home grounds before leaving on the first trip: Steubenville, May 1, 2, 4. Wheeling will then go to Steubenville and play on May 6, 7, 8. NATIONAL LEAGUE TO-DAY. The Base Ball Season Opens in Five of the Big Lengue Cities.

To-day the National League base ball season opens with the eastern and western clubs playing in their respective ern clubs playing in their respective sections, as follows: Brooklyn at New York, Philadelphia at Baltimore, Cleveland at Cincinnati, Pittsburgh at Louisville, Chicago at St. Louis. On form the winners should be New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and St. Louis, but it would not be surprising if the other five won out. It is this very element of uncertainty that has made the American national game in truth as well as in name for a quarter of a contury. Every inditional game in tratical well as in lamb for a quarter of a century. Every indi-cation is for a very successful season. Last year only one club lost money— Louisville—and this spring Bourbon-dom is showing more enthusiasm pro-portionately than any other city, al-

MANAGER WHA WHITE,

The Smiling Fentures of Wheeling's Base Batt Manager.

The accompanying picture shows the features of Wheeling's Inter-State base ball manager, Will White. That look of satisfaction which is predominant is explained by the fact that the picture Billy " was knocking taken when out home runs and leading the Western out home runs and leading the Western league short stops out in Denver with "Brickyard" Kennedy as a side partner. Those were the days of '90 when visit-ing teams couldn't do a thing against Denver, because their players were not not "onto" the rarified Rocky Mountain atmosphere in which White, Kennedy, et. al., reveled and grew fat.

Base ball is full of the uncertainty that is its chief charm, and that ancient and honorable game of bowls" has much of the same uncertainty in its composition was demonstrated last night when The Bowlers, who have been leading for the past four weeks in the Musee league race, dropped a game to the Riversides—"poor old Riverside"—as the team has been called by sympathizers. How did it happen? If you should ask the Riverside boys, wreckers of hones of The Bowlers, they will smile in a superior sort of way and refer you to "some other fellow." To tell the truth, they don't exactly know how it was themselves. This is the itemized story of the "Fail of the Bowlers." ancient and honorable came of bowls
